Marcis Liors Skadmanis

Founder of World NGO Day

Sixty-three years ago 27th of February became a historical day for the NGO community worldwide; the definition of "International NGOs" was introduced for the first time in a resolution by the United Nations.

In recognition of the NGO sector's importance, value to society and all the individuals behind them worldwide that dedicate their time all year round, four years ago we created the World NGO Day initiative. A new international calendar day - acknowledged and supported by various NGOs around the world. The World NGO Day is a day for all NGOs worldwide to tell their stories, share their initiatives, and experience with others around the world.

In addition, the World NGO Day provides an opportunity to honor and remember NGO founders, employees, volunteers, members and various other individuals who have devoted their lives to the work of NGOs in many forms - from those who offer a few hours of their time to those who have sacrificed their lives for a cause they believe in. It is only right that we take time to appreciate to the multitude of citizens who have helped build and contributed vastly to the NGO sector.

While the post 2015 agenda is still being discussed the role of NGOs today is more important than ever before. International development is key to a better world, during these challenging times; NGOs play a vital role in the shaping and implementation of sustainable development. Their credibility lies in the responsible and constructive role they play in society. The nature of the independent role played by NGOs within a society calls for real participation; this pathway is one which tells the story of effective implementation, clear results and achievements of the key goals necessary to ensure the future we want for all of our populations.

I would like to thank our Goodwill Ambassador Mr Zafar Iqbal and all the event's organizers and supporters of the Pakistan World NGO Day Forum

Happy World NGO Day everyone!

In every country, there are numerous NGO entities, from larger organisations, professional associations and chambers of commerce to small local charities, grassroots organisations in every city or district representing a multitude of interests, sectors and activities.
